Undergraduate

• Minor in Rural Sociology (http://catalog.missouri.edu/undergraduategraduate/collegeofagriculturefoodandnaturalresources/ruralsociology/minor-rural-sociology/)

Graduate

• MS in Rural Sociology (http://catalog.missouri.edu/undergraduategraduate/collegeofagriculturefoodandnaturalresources/ruralsociology/ms-rural-sociology/)
• PhD in Rural Sociology (http://catalog.missouri.edu/undergraduategraduate/collegeofagriculturefoodandnaturalresources/ruralsociology/phd-rural-sociology/)

Rural Sociology offers the MS and PhD degrees. The program consists of broad training in sociological theory and methodology with attention to application and policy issues.

Students entering with a bachelor's degree normally are admitted into the master's program even if they are going on to a PhD, exceptional students may be admitted to the Masters/PhD program. Up to 12 hours of makeup work may be required for students who have less than adequate undergraduate preparation in the social sciences.

Specializations

Areas of specialization in the department are: sustainable development, community facilitation, and analytical processes

Financial Aid from the Program

Request for financial support is made by the student at the time of application. Most of the financial support is for research assistantships. Some programs require an extra form or statement from those who wish to be considered for internal assistantships, fellowships or other funding packages. Check the program website or ask the program contact for details.

RU_SOC 1000: Rural Sociology
