A Minor in Canadian Studies allows you to
• participate in Study Abroad programs in Canada
• enhance your degree and career options
• learn about the culture, history, and politics of Canada

With a minor in Canadian Studies, students will be better equipped to deal with political, economic, social and even cultural issues that will arise vis-a-vis Canada, a close military ally and trading partner. In an era that features the internet, Free Trade, and most importantly, issues of border security and national defense, knowledge of Canada is particularly useful in a number of careers. The Canadian Studies Program is an interdisciplinary program which includes Political Science, Geography, Anthropology, Romance Languages, and Public Affairs. The minor concentration in Canadian Studies will require 15 hours of credits. Courses may be selected from at least two of the disciplines listed below. Any course qualifies for the Minor in Canadian Studies as long as it contains at least one-third content on Canada.
