BA in International Studies with Emphasis in European Studies

Degree Program Description
European studies is an emphasis area in the International Studies major. Students who are studying French, Spanish, German, Italian or Russian may wish to select European studies as their emphasis area. The student examines the politics, culture, history and geography of the European continent, with a focus on the country whose native language is being studied by the student. Given the multidisciplinary approach to this degree, students take courses that are specifically geared to a better understanding of the culture, history, and language of a given country, as well as a better understanding of the entire continent of Europe. The program prepares students for graduate study and careers in academia, teaching, law, business, public policy, humanitarian aid, non-profit organizations, government, and diplomacy.

Major Program Requirements
Refer to the program requirements for the BA in International Studies (http://catalog.missouri.edu/undergraduategraduate/collegeofartsandscience/internationalstudies/ba-international-studies). European studies is an emphasis area in the International Studies major. Students who are studying French, Spanish, German, Italian or Russian may wish to select European studies as their emphasis area. The student examines the politics, culture, history and geography of the European continent, with a focus on the country whose native language is being studied by the student. Given the multidisciplinary approach to this degree, students take courses that are specifically geared to a better understanding of the culture, history, and language of a given country, as well as a better understanding of the entire continent of Europe.

Semester Plan
Refer to the program requirements for the BA in International Studies (http://catalog.missouri.edu/undergraduategraduate/collegeofartsandscience/internationalstudies/ba-international-studies).