MA in Architectural Studies

The creative, project-based MA plan of study is preparation for advanced careers in the design professions and higher education. The non-thesis project is conducted in one or two areas: (1) environment and behavior or (2) design with digital media. The MA project is an in-depth investigation of a design problem culminating in a design solution or visual research presentation.

Design Research Concentration

A Design Research concentration is offered for:

- Designers engaged in interior design, architecture, graphic or interaction design who require applied research skills from companies/organizations.
- Researchers with a background in social sciences, anthropology etc. who conduct research for creative product development in industry -- Healthcare IT companies, Engineering etc.
- Business and market professionals to advance understanding of design research for marketing.

The course work for the concentration is applied to the program of study. For specifics, see Design Research Concentration (http://arch.missouri.edu/academics_DesignResearch.html) on department web site. Concentrations do not appear on diplomas or transcripts.

Degree Requirements

The student’s program for MA degree must include a minimum of 30 hours of graduate credit beyond the bachelor’s degree (or its equivalent). Fifteen of the 30-hour minimum must be selected from courses numbered at 8000 or 9000 level; no more than 40% of the 30-hour credit requirement can be satisfied by Research, Readings and Problems coursework.

In consultation with one’s graduate advisor, you will enroll in “core” courses and additional courses appropriate to your degree program. The academic program should be established in consultation with your adviser at the end of the first full semester.

Non-Thesis Requirements MA Program

The creative project-based MA plan of study is preparation for advanced careers in the design professions and higher education. The project (instead of a written thesis) is conducted in one or two areas: (1) environment and behavior or (2) design with digital media. The MA project is an in-depth investigation of a design problem culminating in a design solution or a visual research presentation.
