

BA in English

Degree Program Description

English majors are trained to think broadly and deeply across a variety of topics, periods, styles, and methods. Students develop skills in reading, critical thinking, and writing while delving into one or more concentrations. These concentrations include Literature; Creative Writing; Language and Linguistics; Rhetoric, Writing and Media; or the option to Design Your Own. The BA in English curriculum provides a background in historical forms of literature from around the world while giving students the freedom to choose from an array of electives. A degree in English is intended to provide a broad, open-ended education that can lead to many different careers, especially those requiring excellent communication skills and analytical thinking. Recent graduates have gone on to careers in business, teaching, publishing, television, film, advertising, public relations, insurance, government, public service, management, and law.

Major Program Requirements

English majors must complete a minimum of 30 credit hours in English. At least 15 credit hours in the major must be at the 3000-level or above. At least 6 of those 15 hours must be at the 4000-level. A minor in a different discipline is recommended.

No more than 54 credit hours in English may be counted toward graduation. The required English composition credits (ENGLISH 1000 or ENGLISH 1010W) do not count towards the major, are excluded from this maximum, and are recommended to be taken before the student enrolls in any English courses numbered above 2000.

In addition to University (<https://catalog.missouri.edu/academicdegreerequirements/universityrequirements/>), general education (<https://catalog.missouri.edu/academicdegreerequirements/generaleducationrequirements/>), and College of Arts and Science (<https://catalog.missouri.edu/collegeofartsandscience/#undergraduatetext>) requirements, students must also meet the following major program requirements. All major requirements in the College of Arts and Science must be completed with grades of C- or higher unless otherwise indicated.

To graduate with departmental honors, students must qualify for and complete ENGLISH 4995W Honors Seminar in English - Writing Intensive (which will fulfill the English capstone requirement) and ENGLISH 4996 Senior Honors Thesis. Note that ENGLISH 4995W will count toward the requirements of 15 credit hours of 3000+ level English coursework and 6 credit hours of 4000-level English coursework, but ENGLISH 4996 will not. Both courses will count toward the requirement of at least 30 credit hours in English. Please see the English department website for information about applying for departmental honors.

Internships and Independent Research: Students are encouraged to explore possibilities for gaining professional experience through internal or external internships. They are also encouraged to follow up on opportunities to pursue independent research sponsored by the department, the College of Arts and Science, and other divisions of the University. Internships courses (ENGLISH 4940 or ENGLISH 4950) and independent research study (ENGLISH 4955 or ENGLISH 4960) count towards the major's 4000-level requirements.

Capstone

All majors must complete the capstone either by taking a 4000-level course designated as "Capstone Eligible" in conjunction with the zero-credit capstone project (ENGLSH 4970W), or by qualifying and taking the Honors Seminar (ENGLSH 4995W). The non-honors capstone-eligible course can also be used to fulfill the historical distribution requirement.

* The concentration consists of any 3 courses in one area of English studies, one of which must be 4000+ level. Students may earn multiple concentrations or take remaining credits as electives.

1. Literature
2. Creative Writing
3. Rhetoric, Writing, and Media
4. Language and Linguistics
5. Design Your Own (e.g., Gender and Sexuality, the English Novel, Renaissance literature, Social Justice, etc.; requires approval of English dept. advisor and/or Director of Undergraduate Studies)

Accelerated BA to MA

The Accelerated program will provide strong English majors with the opportunity to acquire an MA in English by pursuing one extra year of study. Students in the accelerated program will take 108 undergraduate credits and 31 graduate credits, for a total of 139 credits, (12 of these credit hours are shared undergraduate and graduate credit hours, 7000-level courses.) Students will need to choose whether to pursue the Literature or Creative Writing track. Students who complete the accelerated program will have earned a BA in English with honors and an MA in English.

In the first year of the accelerated program, students will take 18 hours, (12 of which are at the graduate level), and will complete an honors thesis in English. Once a student receives their BA they will take an additional 19 graduate credit hours, 15 of which will be at the 8000-level. Three of the 19 hours will be the MA thesis hours. The honors thesis written in the first year can become the basis for the MA thesis.
