

MEd in Learning, Teaching and Curriculum with Emphasis in English Education, Certification to the criteria that applicants must meet in order to be considered for admission to the program.

The M.Ed in Learning Teaching and Curriculum with Emphasis in English Education, Certification gives students a strong background in reading and writing pedagogy, adolescent literature, and media literacy. Students learn details of lesson planning, curriculum creation, and teaching practices including classroom management and attention to issues of diversity and social equity.

The program of study is designed for students who already possess an English content area degree to meet the teaching certification requirements as outlined by the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education. All courses will be delivered through an asynchronous online format with the exception of the clinical experiences.

Degree Requirements

Successful completion of the program requires a minimum of 30 credit hours. In addition to the teaching-related courses listed below, minimum English content area credits and clinical experiences must also be completed.

ESC_PS 7160	Child and Adolescent Development in Schools	3
SPC_ED 7020	Teaching the Exceptional Learner	3
LTC 7560	Reading and Writing in Content Areas	3
LTC 8636	Teaching Literature	3
LTC 8641	Foundations of English Education	3
LTC 8681	Guiding all Readers Toward Independence	3
LTC 8913	Curriculum Development	3
LTC 8914	Culturally Responsive Pedagogy	3
LTC 8942	Advanced Internship in Curriculum and Instruction	1-10

Admissions

Applicants are required to meet two sets of minimum qualifications for admission: the requirements of the MEd in Learning, Teaching and Curriculum program (<https://gradschool.missouri.edu/degrecategory/learning/>) and the minimum requirements of the Graduate School (<https://gradschool.missouri.edu/admissions/eligibility-process/>). Because requirements vary, you must refer to a degree program's graduate admission page to learn about specific admission criteria, application deadlines, eligibility and application process. Your application materials will be reviewed by both the Graduate School and the degree program to which you've applied before official admission to the University of Missouri.

The LTC graduate program cannot assure admission to all applicants who meet minimum standards specified for the degree program. Resource constraints do not permit the admission of all qualified applicants.

A committee of faculty reviews the credentials of each applicant. It is the responsibility of this committee to exercise professional judgment related