PhD in Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering

Degree Requirements

A minimum of 72 semester hours are required including the credit hours taken during the MS program. Students who received the MS degree from other than MU may transfer a maximum of 30 hours from their MS degree hours. The 72 hours must include at least 18 hours of coursework at the 8000 level excluding problems and research hours. All research credits on the Plan of Study form must be designated as MAE 9990 – Research.

Plan of Study

The PhD candidate develops a plan of study and research under the immediate supervision of an advisor and in close cooperation with the doctoral program committee approved by the dean of the Graduate School upon the department’s recommendation. The doctoral committee shall be composed of a minimum of four members of the MU graduate faculty and will include at least three members from the MAE Department and at least one outside member from a different MU department or program.

Qualifying Examination

A qualifying examination is given twice each year. Successful completion of this examination is a prerequisite to formal acceptance into the PhD program. Students are allowed two attempts to pass the exam. For students with a master's degree, the first attempt must be made within the student's first year of enrollment. For students without a master's degree, the first attempt must be made within the first two years of enrollment. The second attempt, if needed, must be made at the at the next scheduled exam date following the first attempt.

Comprehensive Examination & Dissertation

A comprehensive examination is given after all course work requirements have been satisfied. Upon completion of the plan of study and research a final examination, essentially a defense of the dissertation, is administered.
